Debate on the Postoffice Appropriation Bill.

SPEECH OF SENATOR PLUMB.

Protection and Free Labor—American and English Ships—The Bill Passed.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Hear presented a letter received by him from the secretary of the Ohio Legislature regarding the printing of the report that the committee recently submitted to the United States Senate. The letter states that on examining the copy printed by order of the Senate it finds that surreptitious interpolation have been made in the copy furnished the printer. The matter interpolated not being in the original copy sent to the Senate by the Ohio House of Representatives. The interpolation, the secretary says, "is of matter intended to reflect on the good faith of the majority of the Ohio committee."

On motion of Hear the letter was referred to the committee on privileges and elections, and the matter was ordered represented in a correct form and the distribution of the incorrect copy ordered stopped.

After the passage of a number of private bills, the post office appropriation bill was laid before the Senate.

Call favored a proposal to appropriate $800,000 for the carriage of United States mails to Central and South America, Japan, China, etc. He did not regard it as a subsidy.

Savisbury opposed the proposition. He said, according to Beck's explanation given yesterday, the post office department was more culpable than first supposed, as to the leaving at Pernambuco of a large body of Rio Janeiro mails. From Beck's explanation, a long way this side their destination, and would have to wait there the coming of the United States steamer for Brazil. He could see no stronger illustration of the reference of the Postmaster-General for foreign over American ships, since he had sent the mails part the way by foreign ships.

Plumb said no Senator had shown that the sum per mile provided for by the amendment was too much. The proposed arrangement for foreign mails was not based on the reference of the Postmaster-General for foreign over American ships, since he had sent the mails part the way by foreign ships.

defiance. Plumb criticised the course of the Senator who would ask for many millions to improve the Mississippi River for commerce, but were not willing to devote anything to develop commerce from the mouth of the Mississippi to other lands. As to our ships there was a sentiment of American nationality. We could never be satisfied with the purchase of English, French or German ships and there was a sentiment that wanted to see the American flag float over American ships made in America and of American material.

Morgan said he did not, of course, wish to break a rule of the Senate. He did wish, however, to reply to some remarks of Plumb and would do so in connection with some resolutions he would offer.

The debate then closed, and voting began. A number of amendments were offered, some of which were agreed to. The committee's provision for foreign mails as finally amended by the Senate and agreed to, reads as follows: "For transportation of foreign mails by American built and registered steamships to secure greater frequency and regularity in dispatch and greater speed in carriage of such mails to Brazil, Republic of Mexico, Central and South America, Sandwich and West India and Windward Islands, New Caledonia, New Zealand and Australian Colonies, China and Japan, $300,000, and the Postmaster-General is authorized to make, after due advertisement for proposals, such contract or contracts with the owners of American steamships for terms of not less than three, nor more than five years, and at the rate of compensation not to exceed 30 cents per nautical mile on the trip each way actually travelled between the terminal points on the most direct and feasible sailing course between the terminal points, as shall be found expedient and desirable to secure the end above set forth, and if he shall be unable to make such contracts for any such respective services he shall, as far as possible, cause the mails of the United States to be carried to and from said places respectively in the best and most expeditious manner practicable, in American vessels and for a reasonable compensation not exceeding the rate before mentioned, and the Postmaster-General, if in his judgment it is practicable, shall contract for a semi-monthly service between New York and New Orleans and the port of Rio Janeiro under the provisions of this law."

On Plumb's motion the sum of $300,000 was added to the amount already in the bill for the railway postal car service. One of the Senate committee's proposed amendments authorized the Postmaster-General to contract for inland and foreign steamship mail service. When it can be combined in one route, where foreign offices are not more than 300 miles distant from domestic offices on the same terms and conditions as the inland steamships service, the contract to be made with and performed by American built and registered steamships. This was agreed to by the Senate, while the limitation of compensation for such service to 50 cents a mile, each way, was struck out.

In other respects the bill was passed as reported from the Senate Committee. The vote on the final passage of the bill was: yeas 43, nays 10. Those voting in the negative were: Berry, Coke, Gray, Harris, Jones of Arkansas, Kenna, Maxey, Sausbury, Vest and Whitthorne.

Morgan offered a series of resolutions, which were ordered printed, and to lie on the table, declaring it is the duty of Congress to extend the necessary mail facilities across the sea, from the principal ports of all foreign countries with which the United States has any considerable trade, or where trade can be profitably developed, that it is the duty of Congress to provide that the American people shall have a right to buy ships abroad and import them at reasonable rates of duty, and that laws prohibiting the importation of foreign-built ships are as unjust and unwise as the laws would be that would prohibit the importation of all other articles of foreign manufacture.

The Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—After a debate for a hour and a half the resolution of the majority committee on elections confirming the right of the sitting member, K. B. Weaver to the seat was adopted.

Green, of New Jersey, called up the resolutions allowing contestee William A. Price, from the Second District of Rhode Island, thirty days within which to take further testimony, and contestant C. H. Page, ten days thereafter to take testimony in rebuttal. The resolution was advocated by Green, Turner, of Georgia, Lowry, of Indiana, and Hall of Iowa. The resolution was opposed by Hopkins of Illinois, Ely of Massachusetts, Rowell of Illinois, and Spooner of Rhode Island.

As a substitute for the resolution, Spooner offered a resolution giving Price forty days within which to cross-examine witnesses, and Page ten days thereafter to take evidence in rebuttal. Rejected—yeas 99, nays 129.

The resolution reported from the committee on elections was then adopted—yeas 118, nays 80. The House took a recess until 7.30.

PUNCTURED LIES!

Baskin and His Cause Receive a Black Eye.

IN THE HOUSE COMMITTEE.

The Arguments on the Edmunds Bill to be Concluded To-day—General Telegraphic News.

Baskin Mercilessly Executed.

Special to THE HERALD.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 4.—Hon. Jos. A. West and John T. Caine were heard by the sub-committee of the judiciary committee to-day. West spoke for nearly two hours, and Caine, without concluding, spoke till nearly 6 o'clock. He will conclude to-morrow morning. West dealt with the work of the Legislature and the vetoes by the Governor. He also showed the extent to which the Mormons were already deprived of power and patronage, and replied to some of Baskin's misstatements and misrepresentations of facts. He made a telling hit by reading some of Gooch's dispatches to the Tribune from Washington, especially by one which charged that Beverly Tucker, brother of the chairman of the committee, was a part of the Mormon lobby. The chairman emphatically denounced the statement by Goodwin to be an unfounded and malicious falsehood. Caine's argument was elaborate and eloquent, being a review of the discussion, taking up and replying to the slanders and assaults upon the Mormon people. He quoted from Col. Kane's lecture and various other impartial and unbiased authorities. Baskin was answered in detail and mercilessly executed. His stories of the so-called Mormon outrages were refuted triumphantly. It was a masterly argument and commanded the undivided attention of the committee. The hearing will be concluded to-morrow.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—The hearing of the Mormon question was resumed by the sub-committee on judiciary to-day. Miss Kate Field and a number of ladies were present. West, member of the Utah Legislature, and Delegate Caine made addresses opposing the Edmunds Bill.

Gladstone in London.

LONDON, May 4.—Gladstone arrived in London to-day, and met with a most enthusiastic reception. Great crowds of people surged around the Premier's carriage as it left the railway station. The horses became restive and were controlled with difficulty, and for a time the occupants of the carriage were in imminent danger. Gladstone is enjoying robust health. This evening he will attend a Cabinet council at which the Greek question and Irish home rule measures be discussed.

Strike at Detroit.

DETROIT, May 4.—The employees of the Michigan car shops did not return to work this morning though a few desired to do so, but feared violence. The strikers assembled in an open lot and listened to speeches, after which a committee was appointed to ask their employers for ten hours pay for nine hours work, and 15 per cent. advance. An adverse answer was given, and the men dispersed after deciding on a mass meeting this afternoon.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—All the executive departments were represented at the Cabinet meeting to-day. Among the questions asked and considered was the propriety of calling a special session of the Utah Legislature, and the propriety of again urging congressional action on the Wel Labra claim.

Furniture Houses Shut Down.

BALTIMORE, May 4.—All furniture manufacturing houses in this city, with one exception, shut down to-day. The men demanded eight hours, and manufacturers refused to comply with the request, claiming they cannot supply their trade with reduced working hours.

The Colonial Exhibition.

LONDON, May 4.—The Queen formally opened the colonial exhibition to-day. The weather is beautiful; crowds gathered along the route taken by Her Majesty from Buckingham Palace and greeted her with enthusiastic cheers. The main hall in which the opening ceremonies were conducted was crowded with a large number of foreign Princes and diplomats who attended in court dress, together with scores of British officers, present in full and glittering uniforms. Prince of Wales, Duke of Edinburgh, Prince Henry, of Battenberg and his wife, Princess Beatrice, and Crown Prince Victoria, of Germany, led the royal procession throughout the building and were followed by Lord Hartington, Marquis Salisbury, Earl Derby and a score of other noble and distinguished persons. A prominent feature of the opening of the exhibition was an ode composed for the occasion by Tennyson. This was magnificently rendered by a vast choir of carefully selected voices. The ode was sung just previous to the Queen's formal declaration that the exhibition was open. The third portion of the ode was evidently composed with a view to stimulating the international fraternity between the two great English-speaking nations, and is in the following words:

Britain fought her sons of yore;
Britain fought and nevermore,
Careless of our growing kin,
Shall we sit our fathers' sin.
Maiden in a narrow day—
Unprophetic rulers they
Prove from out the mother's nest
That young eagle of the west,
Forage for her soul alone—
Britain, bid your own.

The last part of the ode, which is in four portions, makes the following significant allusion to the present crisis in British politics:

Shall we sit through good and ill
And let the stars be dim?
Britons, myriads voices call,
Sons be welded, each and all,
Into one imperial whole:
One with Britain, heart and soul:
One life, one flag, one foot, one throne,
And God guard all!

The Queen was profoundly pleased with the ode, and with the manner in which it was rendered by the choir. She nodded and smiled with pleasure and approval at each sentiment, as it was brought out, and seemed to exceedingly enjoy the enthusiasm which the poem and the music provoked on the vast concourse, whose applause was hearty, enthusiastic and long continued.
